

LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT PETITION | Dept. of Anthropology, UC Irvine

Name:

Field language:

Scholarly language:

(if same as field language, write "same")

How are you meeting the FIELD language requirement?

- Examinations administered by University of California, Irvine language departments or other examinations of language competency (e.g., ECCB) with a score above the basic level of competence (attach proof of the examinations you wish counted)
- By enrolling in and completing, with a grade of "B" or better, a language course at a UC campus at the 2C level, with the exception of Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, and Korean, which must be completed at the 3C level. With graduate director approval, equivalent courses from other universities are acceptable. (Attach an unofficial transcript, circling or otherwise noting the courses you wish counted)
- By attaining a proficiency level of 2C on the Russian Exemption Exam or a proficiency level of 3C on the Chinese Exemption Exam offered by UCI's Academic Testing Center (attach proof of the examinations you wish counted)
- Living in a country in which the language in question is spoken in everyday contacts for at least one year. Country _____ Dates of residence _____

How are you meeting the SCHOLARLY language requirement?

- Not applicable: as noted above, field and scholarly languages are the same.
- Examinations administered by University of California, Irvine language departments or other examinations of language competency (e.g., ECCB) with a score above the basic level of competence (attach proof of the examinations you wish counted)
- By enrolling in and completing, with a grade of "B" or better, a language course at a UC campus at the 2C level, with the exception of Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, and Korean, which must be completed at the 3C level (attach an unofficial transcript, circling or otherwise noting the courses you wish counted)
- By attaining a proficiency level of 2C on the Russian Exemption Exam or a proficiency level of 3C on the Chinese Exemption Exam offered by UCI's Academic Testing Center (attach proof of the examinations you wish counted)
- Translating at least 500 words of a scholarly article from the scholarly language into English, with the aid of a dictionary, certified by someone competent in the language.

Name of person conducting the certification:

Qualifications of this person:

Signature of this person:

Date:

---

Completion of the language requirement is hereby confirmed by the Graduate Director:

Signature

Date